Cincinnati Citizens Entertain President Woodrow Wilson

PRESSURE OF GERMANS WEAKENS, CLAIM RUSSIAN OFFICIALS

Berlin, Oct. 26.—(By wireless to Sayville)—Field Marshal Von Mackensen is progressing with his operations against the Russo-Rumanian operations in Dobrudja, the war office announced today. The bridge over the Danube has been blown up by the Rumanians, the announcement states.

Pressure Weakened
Petrograd, Oct. 26.—(Via London)—The pressure of Field Marshal Von Mackensen's army in Dobrudja against the Russian and Rumanian forces has weakened somewhat, the war office announced today. Of the Transylvania front the statement says, Rumanian troops arrested the progress of superior Austro-German forces. Russian troops in the wooded Carpathians are successfully withstanding Teutonic assaults. The repulse of an attack on the height northwest of Capul Mountain, in that region is reported. Capture by the Russians of the town of Bijar, in Persia, northwest of Hamadan was announced.

Dobrudja Situation Favors Teutonic Allies
Berlin, Oct. 26.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The capture of Tehernavoda by Field Marshal Von Mackensen's army has definitely turned the military situation in Dobrudja in our favor," writes the military critic of the Overseas News Agency. "The right wing of the combined Bulgarian, German and Turkish forces, unopposed on after the taking of Constanza and in a powerful push advanced twenty kilometers (about twelve miles) beyond that place. "From that moment the capture of Medjidie was only a question of a few hours as the town was threatened on the flank. The Russo-Rumanian position thus being rolled up from the east, the western point of support, on the Danube, the town of Rasova, also had to be given up. "With this situation brought about, the attacking Teutonic Allies stood before the strong Danube bridge head of Tehernavoda which then had to serve as a cover for the hasty retreat of the defeated Russians and Rumanians. Today the railroad line from Constanza to Tehernavoda is completely in the hands of the victorious Teutonic Allies, constituting with the valuable material in locomotives and railroad cars taken with it, a first class base for strategic operations. All this material was abandoned by the fleeing Russians and Rumanians. "The defeated army was separated into two parts. Those who did remain on the battlefield or were not taken prisoner, saved themselves by flight across the Tehernavoda bridge over the Danube or to the northward in Dobrudja. "After the capture of Tehernavoda this famous Danube bridge was dominated by Von Mackensen's guns. The bridge is the largest in all Europe. Its total length across both branches of the Danube and the swampy and frequently impassable terrain traversed being 17 kilometers. It was completed in 1896. "With the loss of the Constanza-Tehernavoda line by Rumania, the transport of provisions from Russia will have to be conducted over two minor and less efficiently equipped railway lines in Moldavia or by way of the Danube ports of Galez and Thracia which are by no means comparable to Constanza. At the same time the most important route for artillery transportation by way of the railway from Constanza to Bucharest is virtually eliminated. All shipments must go by way of Ibraila and Ploesti. "The military situation for the Rumanians during the past two days has become much more critical, especially as the Germans and Austro-Hungarians already have partially conquered the Carpathian Passes."

Rumanians Take Mountain Height
Bucharest, Oct. 26.—(Via London)—The capture by the Rumanians of Mount Kerkelaras on the Transylvanian front south of Biceaz, was announced today by the war office. In the Olutz Valley.

Canton, O., Oct. 26.—The Canton school board has ordered High School pupils to stop parking their cars near the high school. So many of the Canton high school pupils have racers and limousines and ride to school in them, that in the event of a fire, school officials fear the school would be burned to the ground before the automobiles could be moved out of the way of the fire department.

U-BOATS BUSY

Berlin, Oct. 26.—(Wireless to Sayville)—The Admiralty today made the following announcement: "In the month of September, 141 hostile merchantmen with an aggregate tonnage of 182,000 tons were sunk or brought in by submarines of the Central Powers or destroyed by mines. Thirteen captains of hostile ships were taken prisoner and three cannon of armed steamers were captured. In addition 39 neutral merchantships of an aggregate of 72,600 tons were sunk for carrying contraband."

VILLISTAS DEMAND RECALL OF TROOPS

Columbus, N. M., Oct. 26.—Villista forces operating near Nampa, only 25 miles south of the American expedition's southern outpost, have demanded the shortening of the American troop line and gradual evacuation of Mexican territory by the United States army. Americans coming to the border from Mexico report.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—Villistas near Chihuahua had the effect today of convincing officials here that no thought should be given soon to removal of guardsmen from border patrol duty or withdrawal of General Pershing's column from Mexico. Fear was felt that if Villa should succeed in his apparent movement to capture Chihuahua, he might find it easy to get control later of nearly all northern Mexico. The entire Mexican situation was regarded as more serious than for many months.

Conditions at Chihuahua were the subject of greatly conflicting reports. Mexican Ambassador Arredondo received from Consul Garcia at El Paso, a denial of General Trevino, Carranza commander at Chihuahua, that he was short of ammunition or intended to evacuate the city. Carranza losses in the fighting with Villistas at Santa Ysabel had been slight, he said, and eight thousand troops had arrived to reinforce the garrison. War department reports, however, were that Villa was encamped five miles from Chihuahua with a considerable force, after having defeated Carranza troops severely and that Trevino was ready to abandon the city.

ROYAL WELCOME IS TENDERED NATION'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—President Wilson declared here today that the present war is the last one involving the world which the United States can keep out of. He again advocated a league of nations to maintain peace after the present war. He said the United States should be ready to use its physical forces if necessary to assist in preventing war. He said that at times the duties of neutrals under present conditions become very difficult. Denying that the present prosperity of the United States is due to the European war, President Wilson also declared that there is no ground for the fear that Europe during the war is storing up goods to dump on markets in America after the war. "We have means of defense and means of offense," said the president. "We are not helpless. We are not blind." The president said America should feel sympathy for Europe, not fear. He spoke of the "silly imagination" of men who say Europe is preparing for an economic war on the United States.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—President Wilson speaking at Cincinnati's reception to him at the Chamber of Commerce, here today, urged the need for "spiritual unity" on the part of the people of the United States to prepare for greater work ahead of the nation. The president and Mrs. Wilson accompanied by a large committee, walked a block from the hotel to the Chamber of Commerce for the official reception ceremonies. The hall was packed with people. The president of the chamber presided. Mayor George Puchta extending "a cordial welcome," said the people of Cincinnati are among the most loyal in the nation. "I cannot say I feel strange in Cincinnati because so many of my early recollections are connected with this great state," responded the president. "It is very oppressive among friends to be on dress parade. It is difficult for me to speak my personal views. I am perfectly content today to throw off the disguise of dignity."

"Seriously speaking, there are a great many things Ohio reminds me of that are the essence of American life. Therefore whenever I come to Ohio some of the zest of the history of America gets in my blood. There is no zest in monopoly. The real zest is to feel that you are a part of a great company working for human liberty. "The problem now is to have a spiritual bond of unity joining

Associated Press Correspondent Describes French Stroke At Verdun

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY AT VERDUN
Oct. 24.—(By a staff correspondent of the Associated Press)—(Delayed)—The French today recaptured from the German Crown Prince in six hours and twenty minutes, territory northeast of Verdun which it had cost the Germans five months of the hardest fighting and a half million men to take, earlier this year. The effect of the victory was to give the French freedom of movement around Verdun, permitting them to prepare for a further advance when the opportunity is ripe, at the same time dealing a stunning blow when the Germans thought the French striking force was entirely assembled in the Somme region. The victory also leaves Fort Vaux, now in German hands, perilously open to attack. Such a brilliant success in so short a time, was not expected even by the most optimistic when the order for the offensive was given at 11:30 o'clock this morning. For a couple of days the artillery preparation by the French batteries had been of the most extreme severity. Monday the Germans opened with every available battery, believing a French attack was about to be made. Not a single Frenchman stirred. Tuesday at dawn a fresh tornado of fire by the French brought only a feeble reply, the Germans apparently regarding the bombardment as a mere demonstration. The French infantry meanwhile stood at arms awaiting the order to spring forward. Many of them had participated in the defense of Verdun from the opening of the great German attack in February. All of them were most cheerful at the prospect of giving a blow, instead of continually receiving one. Early in the day evidence came of the awfulness of the French artillery fire in the shape of sixty German deserters, including two officers, who, unable to stand the torrents of shells, walked out and surrendered before the infantry struggle began. The Associated Press correspondent watched the progress of the fight from a position commanding a panoramic view of the whole battlefield. Suddenly about 11:30 o'clock the curtain of French shells which had pounded the German trenches into lateness, was lifted slightly and dropped again with the utmost precision just behind the German line. Officers waited, watches in hand, for the chosen moment. Then the French infantry, covered with mud and sand and soaked to the skin, went over the top of their positions. They rapidly gained the German lines, where they found, amid killed and wounded, hundreds of Germans, who, half dazed, mostly surrendered after slight resistance. The first work thus taken was the Haudremont quarries, from which the French were able to push onward with an unexpected sweep. Thiaumont fell early and the Fossecoite ravines were taken. Then the attacking waves rolled irresistibly forward and round the village and fort of Douaumont, which were encircled just as dusk fell at six o'clock in the evening and their garrisons were taken prisoner. Nightfall brought only a slight cessation from the artillery whose flashes lighted up the now clear sky. Along the field tracks pitted with shell holes great batches of prisoners were escorted to the rear. Constant additions are being made hourly to the total of captured, which comprises a hundred officers. Many were found cowering in shell holes until detachments of the French cleared up the battlefield. General Joffre witnessed the opening of the attack, but as soon as he saw everything progressing well, he hurried away.

Once more my natural kindness of heart has asserted itself and once more th' public is enjoying a beautiful autumn day instead of something worse promised. In fact I'm gettin' to rather enjoy this surprisin' people pleasantly. It makes it easier t' bear when th' occasion arises t' surprise 'em the other way. Here's for tomorrow: Ohio—Fair tonight and warmer in north and western portion; Friday partly cloudy and warmer. Kentucky—Partly cloudy and warmer tonight and Friday. West Virginia—Fair tonight, Friday fair and warmer.

Hon. Charles F. Towne, Noted Orator, Coming For Meeting

The Scioto County Democratic Executive committee received word Thursday that Hon. Charles F. Towne, formerly congressman and senator from Minnesota, would be in this city for an address Thursday evening, November 2. Definite arrangements for this big Democratic rally have not been made, owing to the absence of several local Democrats, who are at Cincinnati to hear President Wilson deliver an address, but it is understood that the meeting will be held on the Gallia street esplanade.

Should bad weather set in next Thursday, the meeting will be held at Distel hall, Seventh and Chillicothe streets, which is the largest hall in the city.

Mr. Towne is now a prominent corporation lawyer of New York City. He is known as one of the most brilliant orators in the United States. He is ranked by many critics as being next to Hon. William J. Bryan.

Local Democrats were delighted with the news that Mr. Towne would be in the city for an address and no doubt elaborate arrangements will be made for his entertainment. Democrats from all sections of the county will attend the rally.

ENID MARKEY AND WILLIAM DESMOND IN "LIEUTENANT DANNY, U. S. A." LATEST TRIANGLE PLAY. Columbia Tonight

Lieutenant Danny Ward, leading figure in "Lieutenant Danny U. S. A.," the new Triangle picture to be shown at the Columbia tonight, while trotting along in love with Senorita Ysobel, at the head of a platoon of cavalry patrolling the border, sees through his glasses a cliche being furiously driven toward the Rio Grande, with Mexicans hot in pursuit. As the cliche nears the border, Danny and his men appear and the baffled Mexicans retire cursing.

The occupants of the cliche are Senora Maria Ventura and her daughter, Senorita Ysobel Ventura. The senora is a haughty aristocrat; her niece a fair-haired beauty. They are fleeing from their hacienda to escape the vengeance of Pedro Lopez, "the butcher," a brutal murderer who once had been a peon on the Senora's estate.

Danny escorts the woman and girl to the army post and places them in the safe keeping of the picture to be shown at the Columbia tonight, while trotting along in love with Senorita Ysobel.

As the days go by the call to arms becomes stronger, and one midnight he steps away from the post, crosses the border and joins Ysobel. He arrives at the hacienda just in time, for Lopez has returned and presently the house is in a state of siege.

The defenders are hopelessly outnumbered and Pedro, alighted with lust and vengeance, prepares to pay off old grudges against the Senora, and possess Ysobel.

Early in the fighting the Captain is slaughtered and his mother stricken with paralysis, leaving the severely wounded Danny and the courageous Ysobel to hold on until relief comes.

Anita Stewart in "The Daring of Diana" At Lyric Tonight

Teeming with the throbs and thrill of newspaper life, reflecting the "voice of the press" full of color and action, "The Daring of Diana" is a full-purposed play carrying a vital thought portrayed by captivating Anita Stewart.

Loyal to the core, clever as a die she outwits the leader of the political ring and through she goes through a very hell it all becomes a work of love, for her young chief.

Fannie Ward In "Each Pearl A Tear" At Lyric Tomorrow

Having established herself as one of the most versatile actresses on the screen, Miss Fannie Ward, the beautiful Lasky star, will be seen at the Lyric tomorrow in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Each Pearl A Tear," written especially for her by Beatrice C. DeMille and Leighton Osmun, from the story by E. L. Sheldon. It is a Paramount picture.

For a number of years Miss Ward has been popular as a comedienne in the spoken drama. When the Lasky company induced her to join their roster of stars, she was promised serious work, and this was given her in "The Cheat." In this sensational photodrama, she scored the greatest success of her career, and this she repeated in "Tennessee's Partner," in "For the Defense" and "The Gutter Magdalene," and it is said that "Each Pearl A Tear" is better than anything in which she has heretofore been seen.

The story of "Each Pearl A Tear" has to do with a young girl who is led to believe by an unscrupulous millionaire, that she has lost a valuable string of pearls. She is forced to work for him to repay this loss.

How she discovers that he still has the pearls, and uses them to wreck him financially, at the same time bringing wealth to her sweetheart, is brought about in an unusual and striking manner.

Miss Ward has been surrounded by the Lasky company with a cast of unusual excellence, including such well-known players as Jack Dean, Charles Clark, Paul Weigel and Jane Wolff.

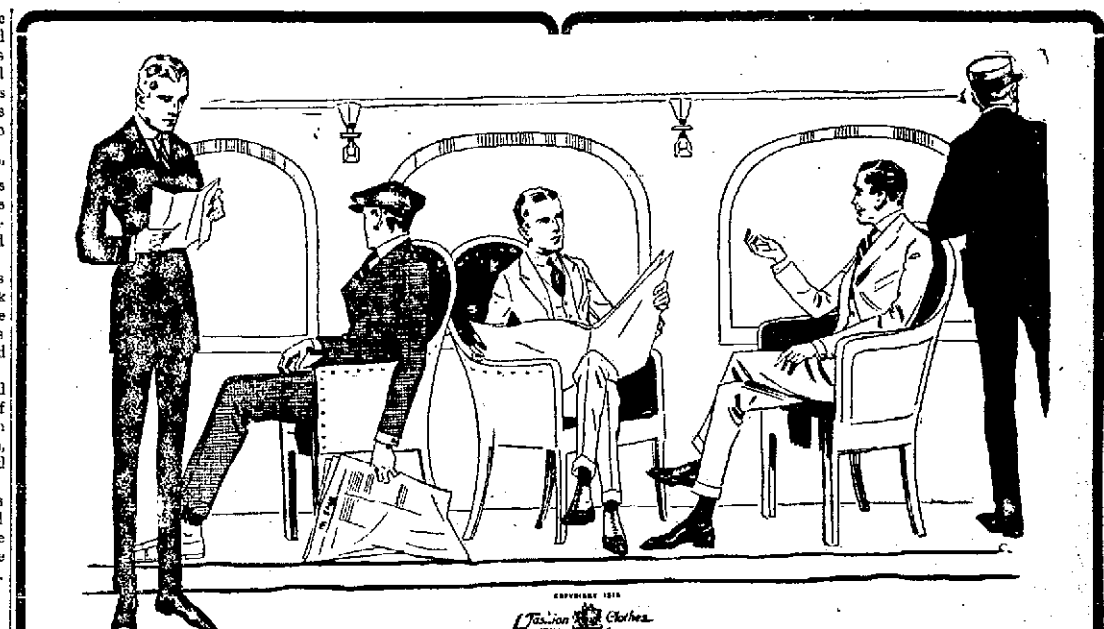

The production is lavish in its magnificence and the audience will be given an opportunity to glimpse at society art tableaux, which are now so popular in fashionable circles.

K. K. Pictures Made Big Hit

Crowds thronged the Lyric theatre Wednesday afternoon and evening when the Korn Carnival moving picture, "The Honeymoon of Mr. and Mrs. Korn" was shown. The picture made by Virgil Fowler, is the clearest of all "home-made" moving pictures ever shown here and as the crowds filed from the theatre almost every one pronounced the picture a big success.

The local people who took part, especially the leading lady and man, Miss Helen Rowe and Joseph Babcock, carried their parts well and before the camera performed like "real" moving picture actors. The two thrilling scenes where Basil Hardgrove leaped from the top of the First National bank building after being turned down by the leading lady, and where Carlos Bellamy stumbled and fell and was run over by an automobile were perfect. A part of the picture that received many compliments was the scene showing the Korn dance. Five girls danced on a lawn in front of a large shock of corn and at the close of the dance the "spirit" of the corn emerged from the shock and dismissed the dancers.

The picture will probably be shown again at the Lyric within the next couple of weeks on account of a large number being un-

Columbia Tomorrow and Saturday, "The Fall of a Nation" Presents Vital Theme. Mammoth Spectacle Depicts Menace of Military Invasion to a Country Unprepared and Helpless.

"The Fall of a Nation," which will be presented for the first time at the Columbia tomorrow and Saturday, tells a vital story of international significance. A confederation of European powers decides to seize North America and annex it to Europe. A secret army of the North American states has few armed defenders, it is an easy task to capture it overnight. Meantime 150,000 trained troops, fresh from the European wars, are rapidly transported across the Atlantic with all their equipment of great guns, poison gases, liquid fire and bombs. Effecting a landing nearby, they easily vanquish the small North American army, join the foreign born conquerors of New York, and march to Washington where they dispose of the president and put in his place "the Imperial Viceroy of the Provinces of North America."

While the locale of the story is in and near New York, its momentous lesson applies to any country unprepared to meet the foreign foe. At the end of the present war there will be millions of idle troops in Europe. What new task will be set for them? Will covetous eyes be cast on the riches of the continents discovered by Columbus? Will some emperor—like Napoleon III who sent the French invaders into Mexico—attempt to seize a fair and wealthy portion of the new hemisphere? Then—unless the country is ready and well prepared—history will record a real tragedy "The Fall of a Nation."

It is against this terrible danger that Thomas Dixon, the author of the spectacle, provides an awful warning.

At the Exhibit

"The Dollar King" is the title of the ninth chapter of "The Grip of Evil." It is a story dealing with the higher wages and better conditions for workmen. The son of the head of the cardboard trust desires to bring about reforms in his father's factory. The father turns him out and he appeals to John Burton who builds a model factory and places the young man in charge. The workers are well satisfied until the trust resolves to acquire Burton's property or make it so unprofitable for him that he will have to give up. Will he with all his millions be able to fight the powerful combination of interests arrayed against him or will he be forced to surrender. The film gives the answer in a graphic manner. Roland Bottomley and Jackie Saunders are at their best in this play. Two good comedies complete the bill.

Great Bill At The Popular Arcana Theatre

Manager J. F. Potts, of the Arcana Theatre, has an especially strong bill for Thursday night patrons. The classy program will start with the showing of the Animated Weekly No. 33, giving in picture form all the late news features, a film that is not only interesting in character, but highly educational. This will be followed by a comic, entitled, "Unkind Mr. Villain," so funny that a reward is offered for anyone who sits through it and fails to fairly scream with delight. A strong drama, "A Knight of the Night," with pretty settings and expert photography, will bring the splendid program to a close. Admission always the same, always five cents.

"Girl From Frisco" At Temple Theatre Tonight

Lovers of the Western dramas will be pleased to learn that Manager Harold Potts, of the Temple Theatre, will show the "Girl From Frisco" at his popular theatre tonight. The chapter will feature that wonderful interesting episode, "The Gun Runners," in which untold numbers of Indians and cowboys play a prominent part. It is really and truly one of the most exciting shows of the year and tonight's program is complete in itself. Do not fail to see "The Gun Runners." In addition Manager Potts will give two other strong plays. One is a comic, entitled, "Losing Weight," a scream in all the word implies. This will be followed by a drama, "Cleopatra," a heart interest play in 2 reels, that is teeming full of sensationalism and one that bears the personal guarantee of Mr. Potts. Five big feature reels for the small sum of five cents. If you see tonight's bill you will join in with all the other Temple boosters and say that Manager Potts is giving one of the best shows in this section of the state.

At The Strand
"The Polly of Desire," a five reel drama and one of the very latest and best productions of the Red Feather Feature Co., will be the big attraction at the Strand theatre tonight. There is no need of extolling the virtues of the Red Feather productions. Whenever shown patrons always declare them to be in a class by themselves. The one tonight is a climax of them all, a show that commands prices of 15c and 25c in the big cities. You can see it tonight at the Strand theatre for the small sum of five cents and if you are not fully satisfied your money is waiting you at the box office. A play with the punch.

James Young, Sr., aged 65, for many years one of Greenup's best known citizens, was killed by a fall of slate in a coal mine at Logan, W. Va., Wednesday afternoon. Caught beneath an avalanche of slate Young was crushed to death and a mine foreman, who was with him, was badly hurt.

Mr. Young had entered the mine to call on his son, James Young, Jr., and notify him that he had sold his farm near Greenup and would spend the greater part of the winter with him. But death in tragic form intervened and Young was killed within three minutes after he entered the mine. His body arrived at the old home in Greenup today and funeral services will be conducted there Friday.

Mr. Young in addition to his son in Logan leaves one daughter, Mrs. Ruby Compton. His wife died last summer. Mr. Young for years owned a valuable farm one mile from Greenup and on the E. K. railroad.

Miss Dolly Wise

Dear Miss Wise—I have a daughter 25 years of age, who sure is a puzzle to me. She has plenty of young men friends of the kind they are, but they are not the kind I want when I was a girl. Dolly I wouldn't think of picking up with so many different kinds of men. None of them can hold a candle to her father when I accepted him. He was a man among men. Now I would like to see my daughter pick out a man like her father for a husband. Don't you think I ought to supervise her callers until one comes along I think she should marry.

DISTRACTED MOTHER.
It is possible your daughter has not attracted the kind of men she should have call on her, and if that is the case you had better look to her and her training. As a rule the girl who has had the right kind of home training, is a pretty good judge of her own generation. Unless you are looking forward to a dismal future of your daughter's future, do not undertake to "supervise" her friends to the elimination of them all, for you will either force her into unhappiness or you yourself will regret forcing her to abandon all confidence in you. If you will credit her with as much common sense as you are convinced you had in choosing a husband, it is

Add a pint of water. You have a pint of really remarkable cough remedy—one that can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief at all times.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and relieves the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with quinine and is noted for its speed in overcoming severe cough, throat and chest colds. Its millions of enthusiastic users have made it famous the world over.

There are many worthless imitations of this noted mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

pretty certain everything will turn out all right.

Dear Miss Wise—I saw in your column some time ago where some person asked the number of accidents in the United States per year and noticed your answer, and with your permission will give you a few facts for print. One person is accidentally killed every five minutes. Over 11,000,000 are killed and injured each year, averaging 30,000 each day. The number of persons killed and injured each year is five times as many as die from natural causes. More deaths are caused from pin-pricks and other slight injuries than from pneumonia. One death in every twelve is due to accidental causes. One person in every seven meets with accidental injury in the course of twelve months. The above are startling, but nevertheless true facts taken from U. S. Statistics and ought to convince the person that asked the question that he or she should have an accident policy.

Dear Dolly—I am a "health crank" and enjoy the "Health Notes" which have appeared in The Times for several Saturdays. I do hope they will continue. Who writes them? And can a person ask questions to be answered? I would like to know how infantile paralysis can be prevented.

MRS. X.

Dr. O. W. Wendelen is author of the "Health Notes" which appear in this paper each week. He has kindly consented to answer your question in his talk this week. Watch for it.

Dear Miss Wise—What is meant by a "coined" word? Please publish.

Interested Reader—I do not know and have no way of finding out.

SOCIETY

Mrs. N. W. Evans' beautiful home on Gallia avenue was the scene of a lovely party Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Evans and Miss Gladys Evans entertained a large number of friends with a tea. Although the weather was gloomy out of doors, the sunny indoors was bright and attractive. The curtains were drawn, the lights brightly burning, and the spacious rooms beautifully decorated with exquisite flowers from the flower garden at the Evans home. The parlor was adorned with pink and white roses and dahlias, the living-room in scarlet dahlias and the dining-room in yellow. In line to receive were Mrs. Evans, Miss Evans and Mrs. Merchant Bush, wife of the new pastor at the First Presbyterian church, all attired in handsome gowns. During the receiving hours, from three until five o'clock, the rooms were filled with handsomely gowned women, over one hundred in number. They were greeted at the door by little Miss Gladys Doty, attractive grand-daughter of Mrs. Evans, who was attired in pink and white. Mrs. Coles Peckles, Mrs. E. E. Everett, Miss Mary Little, Miss Mary K. Reed and Mrs. Jessie Bolles invited the guests to the dining-room, where the delicious yellow and white refreshments were served by Mrs. Morton Shumway, Miss Katharine Haldeman and Miss Lena Hancock during the first hour, and later Misses Mary Varner, Marie Bauer, Helen Dunn and Nell Turley served the dainties from a beautiful table covered with a handsome drawn linen cloth over yellow. A huge bowl of yellow dahlias adorned the center and at each end were silver candelabra holding yellow candles. Mrs. Lucien Doty was in charge of the dining-room. Among the guests were Mrs. J. A. Jordan, of Columbus, guest of Mrs. Alan Jordan, and Mrs. Irving Brown's cousin, Mrs. Frank Seager, of Fremont.

Mr. and Mrs. William Briggs are at home from a visit in Denver, Colorado, Kansas City, Mo., and Chicago. At the latter place they visited their son, Mr. Warren Briggs.

As a farewell favor to Mrs. A. E. Everett, the Priscillas entertained today at one o'clock with a beautiful luncheon at the home of Mrs. S. D. Ruggles, on Second street. The table was adorned with pink and white roses, and the favors were in keeping with the Halloween season. Covers were laid for Mesdames A. E. Everett, S. D. Ruggles, W. H. Schwartz, W. H. Burr, P. L. Manning, C. M. Seal and Miss Margaret Miller, the absent members being Mesdames W. D. Gilliland, Win Nye, Harley Macounnet and J. A. Booker. The menu was beautifully served in four courses. As a farewell gift Mrs. Everett was presented with a handsome hammered silver fruit bowl, which she very much appreciated.

The B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church will give a Halloween party Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sowers, on Lincoln Hill.

Individuality—the one word that holds Andersons' Suits aloof from the ordinary.

Our most distinctive suits are not kept on display. Let us show them to you.

The Anderson Bros. Co.

The Ceaseless Pursuit of Distinction

In no line of garments do we find women more careful and particular regarding distinction in style than in the suits. The suit when purchased is expected to be correct in style for its life is long, the service continuous.

The quest for distinction on the part of the wearer prods us on to greater care in the selection of styles. A suit to obtain a place in our show room must first be stylish, second, good value; third, expert workmanship and fit.

While we are proud of our versatility in being able to supply stylish suits to all classes, in the widest range of prices, we still maintain our supremacy as specialists on high class suits of unusual merit and individuality. Particularly to the woman who wishes the newest and most desirable fashions and models regardless of price, do we show creations that appeal, for our showing in this class reveals first of all the richest and most exclusive style tendencies. This line of suits will appeal to the woman who wishes a really high class suit first, the price being a secondary consideration. And at that the price quotations will not cause a sensation for in this line we are pleased to be able to still hold the prices down to $30 to $55.

SAVE YOUR FEET—IT PAYS IN THE LONG RUN

A Woman and Her "House-work Shoes"

There is just one shoe made that any woman can afford to wear during the hours she is on her feet "attending to the housework."

That is the "ARCH PRESERVER" SHOE.

A great many women think that any old shoe—the older the better—is good enough for use around the house. No greater mistake could possibly be made.

An old pair of shoes—run over at the heels and flattened down in the shank—loose and "sloppy" around the ankles will do more toward bringing upon a woman a case of acute "broken arches"—"flat-foot"—than almost anything else in the world.

The best pair of shoes a woman can buy is none too good for her use while she is on her feet around the house. She can better afford to wear the old, out-of-shape ones while sitting down entertaining company than when attending to housework duties.

We have the famous "ARCH PRESERVER" SHOE in various types of toes and styles of heels, shoes for all purposes and for all occasions, but we feel the most important shoe in the line is the one we offer as the ideal shoe for women to wear while on their feet about the house and for the business woman's wear.

These shoes are built upon regular bridge construction principles. They fit better than any other type of shoes. They feel better. They "snug up" to the foot arch—and they STAY UP through the life of the shoe.

The "ARCH PRESERVER" never becomes an old shoe—so far as its arch is concerned. It always stands up. Every woman will appreciate just what that means.

Come in and try one on—no obligation to buy. Also get the leaflet which tells a lot of things women should know about their feet.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the "SLEEP" FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know what it is composed of. CAUTION! DOBS NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

FAVOR MR. HUGHES

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—Enthusiastic expressions in favor of the candidacy of Hughes and equally emphatic disapproval of the Wilson regime marked a meeting, held at the Hotel Gibson, Wednesday, at which were present about 60 Catholic clergymen and about a score representing the laity. Colon Schott, local leader of the American Independence conference, under whose auspices the meeting was held, said after the gathering that, while no resolutions were adopted, those present left no doubt as to their sentiment in favor of the Hughes candidacy and gave, undoubtedly assurance of their active support in behalf of the Republican nominee. It developed that the local meeting had been arranged by the American Independence conference.

The meeting of the Catholic clergymen followed a similar session held by German-Protestant ministers Tuesday, at which resolutions were adopted favoring Hughes. Those at the meeting Wednesday represented Indiana and Kentucky, as well as Ohio. Reports that there was a decided upheaval in Democratic ranks in Southern Indiana, where disapproval of the Wilson administration caused many to incline to the Republican candidate, evoked expressions of enthusiasm from the clergy and laity present. Reports from Cleveland of a meeting there at which Catholic clergymen, who had voted the Democratic ticket at the last election, announced their intentions this year of voting the other way, added to the enthusiasm of the delegates.

"WATCH" MAN FOR WILSON

New York, Oct. 26.—Charles H. Ingersoll, watch manufacturer, an officer of the Wilson Business Men's National League, president of the Woodrow Wilson Advertisers' League, today made public a statement urging the reelection of President Wilson as the first emanation of the small merchant and business man. Political observers saw in Mr. Ingersoll's appeal the first recognition of the importance of the man who keeps the neighborhood store as a factor in public affairs.

Alarm Comes In During Test Of New Engine

While testing the new combination fire truck at the Gallia street esplanade Thursday noon, an alarm was sounded from the box at Tenth and Offshore streets, which immediately stopped the procedure. The crew which was in charge of the new department boarded the East End truck and went to the fire. The new machine was taken to the Seventh street house by a representative of the Seagraves company, Columbus.

For the fourth time within the past two years, a roof fire was extinguished at the home of Joseph Melchior, Tenth street above Offshore street. Slight damage was done. The fire was caused from the sparks of a passing locomotive, according to the firemen. The tests completed by Chief George Koerner and C. F. Silzer, representative of the Fire Insurance companies were very satisfactory.

Tests of smaller orifices demonstrated that the equipment would pump a stream of water over the Samuel Hershaw building.

proving campaign rallies in which every evidence of old-time Republican enthusiasm was apparent. Col. Herriek's Kenton meeting was the biggest of the year in Hardin county; the crowds were so large as to necessitate an overflow meeting. Over two thousand listened to the outdoor meeting and as many more crowded into the Kenton opera house. The big crowds cheered Col. Herriek to the echo. References to Governor Willis and Hughes were wildly applauded.

At New Paris Wednesday night, Col. Herriek, referring to the planks of the Democratic platform, which speaks of commercial conspiracies being fought by a protective tariff, declared that "the Underwood tariff law had broken up these so-called conspiracies to protect the business and laboring men of the country against foreign commercial competition and the onslaught upon our commerce by the reorganized and efficient European nations."

"The Wilson administration claims that it has unshackled American business. It has unshackled business but it is European business and cheap labor instead of American business that it has unshackled by the enactment of the Underwood law and its refusal to revise the tariff to prepare against the commercial war of conquest for which all Europe is even now preparing," said Col. Herriek.

ATTACKS COX REGIME

Van Wert, Oct. 26.—Governor Willis talked yesterday at Wauseon, Montpelier, Hicksville, Paulding and Van Wert. At every meeting hundreds were turned away. In every county he was assured of Republican victory, and Democrats as well as Republicans marvelled at the enthusiastic receptions accorded Ohio's governor.

Governor Willis charged the Cox administration of the banking department as being the greatest political scandal in Ohio's history; he promised the farmers a continuance of the management of agricultural departments by practical farmers; he charged the former administration with gross extravagance in state government and promised the continuance of a program which increases efficiency and decreases cost in the conduct of state affairs.

"I have challenged my opponent, since he made the statement that there was no scandal and no criminal charges connected with his administration, to defend his banking department and the attempt of those connected with his administration to steal referendum petitions. His only answer has been that none of them have been sent to the penitentiary."

"If that is the attitude of my opponent, in the discharge of duties in connection with the public service, I pity the public service."

Editorial in Cincinnati Enquirer of Oct. 25, 1916

Safeguarding National Prosperity Through the Tariff!

There are now nearly 2,000,000 of women in the British Isles who are employed in agricultural pursuits, in manufacturing establishments, in public utility service, in stores, shops and offices, having taken the places in employment of nearly 2,000,000 of men who have gone to fight for their King and country.

When the 4,000,000 British soldiers return home at the close of the war there will certainly result an anomalous condition in the efforts of the women to retain their places and in the desire of the men to obtain employment. THERE WILL BE A LABOR CRISIS, AN INDUSTRIAL CRISIS, AND THE ULTIMATE RESULTS CANNOT FAIL TO BE A SHARP DECLINE IN WAGES THROUGHOUT THE UNITED KINGDOM. British manufacturers and British ship owners, British bankers and British merchants will be united and prompt in clearing the warehouses, the factories and the mills of the OUTPUTS OF BRITISH CHEAP LABOR, and THEY WILL PRESS THESE OUTPUTS FOR SALE IN EVERY MARKET ON THE GLOBE where sales can be made.

FRANCE, GERMANY, AUSTRIA AND ITALY WILL ALL HAVE THE SAME CONDITIONS OF SURPLUS LABOR, competition for employment and the fall in wages, and these countries will be enterprising and anxious to secure real money for their manufactured outputs. THEIR BUSINESS MEN WILL BE OFFERING THEIR MERCHANDISE ON FOREIGN MARKETS AT EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICES.

Germany is giving employment today to nearly 3,000,000 men, prisoners of war, and, while feeding them, gives them eight cents each day to buy tobacco or other small articles, but exacts a full day's work and no days off, save from sickness. These prisoners are employed in the fields, the forests, the mine, the quarries, in the mills, in factories, and the outputs of the MANUFACTURING PLANTS OF GERMANY are believed to be enough larger than domestic consumption at the present time to warrant the belief that the nation is ACCUMULATING SURPLUS STOCKS in many lines of goods which will be COMPELLED TO HOLD UNTIL THE WAR ENDS AND THEN WILL COME "THE DUMPING" UPON THE MARKETS OF THE WESTERN WORLD.

Germany expects to induce more than 1,000,000 of the Russian prisoners of war to remain within her boundaries as settlers in Germany after the end of the strife. Russia may be their native land, but Germany will offer them inducements to remain that they are likely to accept. German system, German efficiency, German low wages make Germany a formidable competitor in industry and commerce. Then there is Japan. Japan, with the Oriental subtlety in trade, the cleverness of the Japanese to copy closely and the ability of Japanese manufacturers to command extremely low-priced labor, and the promptness of the Japanese Government to promote Japanese export trade.

How will our manufacturers fare when the war closes and they will have to face these conditions so advantageous to manufacturers in Europe and in Asia, and so dangerous to their trade?

THE TARIFF GATES SHOULD SWING SHUT TO PROTECT THE UNITED STATES FROM INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION.

Above is an editorial from a newspaper of Democratic leanings, giving the strongest kind of an argument as to why YOU SHOULD VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The Republican party is the party of a Protective Tariff—and a Sound, Permanent Prosperity.

You have always had over-flowing Prosperity when the Republicans were in power.

For the first time in history, we are having good times during a Democratic administration—and this Democratic prosperity is built on the blood of European battle fields.

Which is the safer, sounder and most permanent—Protective Tariff Prosperity or European War, Shotgun Prosperity.

VOTE FOR HUGHES and PERMANENT PROSPERITY!

If Cross, Bilious or

No matter what ails your child a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 30-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup company.

zest in a game that he plays all by himself."

"I do not think there is any zest in the monopoly of anything. The real zest is when you have joined your strength with the strength of your fellow citizens, when you feel that you are part of a great army of liberal spirits, moving towards the conquest of human liberty."

President Wilson is on his final middle western swing of the campaign and came to Cincinnati for the first time in his administration. He was met by a cheering crowd and a large reception committee at the Union Station, and was immediately taken by automobile through the streets, thronged with people, to a hotel.

The president's program included four speeches, a reception, a lunch, a dinner and an automobile ride. Arrangements for his entertainment were made by the non-partisan city club. Mayor George F. Puchta, a Republican, officially welcomed him. Local Democrats, however, gave a political color to the president's visit by their cheering.

Because of the determined fight for Ohio's twenty-four electoral votes being made by both parties, administration officials watched the spirit of Mr. Wilson's reception with especial attention. They expressed themselves as well pleased. Cincinnati's large foreign born population added interest to his visit.

Although a short period late this afternoon was set aside for "rest" for the president, he expected to be busy until his departure tonight at ten o'clock for Shadow Lawn.

Mrs. Wilson dressed in a dark gown and wearing a bouquet of flowers, accompanied the president throughout the day. She was made an honorary member of the Women's City Club, which entertained the president at luncheon.

On his way here this morning Mr. Wilson was greeted by large crowds at half a dozen Ohio towns through which he passed. He appeared on the observation platform of his car at each stop, shook hands with as many people as possible, exchanged laughing remarks, and thanked the crowds for coming out in such large numbers to see him.

A shrill chorus of locomotive whistles in the railroad yards here as the president came in furnished an unusual feature of his reception. The railroad engineers and firemen stood on their engines and waved to Mr. Wilson.

During the entire ride from the station to the hotel, the president stood in his automobile waving his hat to the people who cheered him from the windows of high buildings and along the sidewalks. Bombs bursting high in the air added to the din. A special force of secret service men and police tried vainly to keep the crowds off the street.

FRAUDS TO BE PROBED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—New impetus to the federal inquiry into election frauds was given today with the appointment of Frank C. Dailey, of Indianapolis, formerly United States attorney for the district of Indiana, as special assistant to the attorney general in charge of investigations and prosecutions of election law violations in Indiana, Ohio, and Illinois. Assistant Attorney General Graham will have charge of the Washington end of the investigation.

Official announcement of the appointment came at the end of a conference here yesterday between Attorney General Gregory, Mr. Dailey and Senator Taggart, of Indiana. Numerous reports of frauds in elections for federal offices in the middle west had reached the department of justice.

5 or 6 ft. in controversy all along, although his engineers held otherwise.

Judge George M. Osborn paved the way for bringing the controversy to a climax. While present as a legal adviser of the Sunnyside company he made it plain that he was not giving any legal opinions but only his experience as a past member of council told him that a hornet's nest had been stirred up over a matter which council itself had to deal with it and that the mayor and other executive department heads had nothing to do with it.

Mr. Wilson agreed with him and thought it time to call a halt on what he likened to a family quarrel. He said he would never allow anyone inside or outside the administration to influence his vote on matters of public welfare and thought other council members should feel the same.

Mr. Johnson now moved that condemnation proceedings be brought to open Twentieth street from Chilliote street through Sunset avenue, which the Sunnyside owners are willing to dedicate as soon as asked to do so.

Mayor Kaps now expressed gratification that the controversy seemed settled, saying it had troubled him ever since March 1.

"I was asked to bluff our engineer into forcing Mr. Zaph to open the street. Whatever a man has done two years ago against a private corporation two years ago doesn't concern me, but what he does as a city official is a different thing. I am not here to coerce or bluff anyone but have tried to use fair and peaceful means to effect a settlement. I am here to say, however, that it will cost you several thousand dollars where two years ago it could have been settled for $300," said the mayor. "Furthermore," he added, "no plans from this addition or any other addition will be accepted by the service director of this city unless the streets be put down in the right shape. No half-way stuff will go and Sunset avenue will have to be hooked up with Twentieth street in right shape before the service director will accept it with my approval."

The vote on the motion for condemnation proceedings was rather a queer affair. Only two ayes were really heard but as there were no dissenting sounds President Flood held the motion carried. Engineer Harper suggested a call of the roll but it was found that Mr. Johnson who put the motion had already taken his leave. City Solicitor Skelton construed the silent votes as favoring the motion and the incident which for the moment threatened to again upset matters was immediately forgotten.

Charges Of "Putting One Over" On School Board, Requests To "Bluff" Etc., Are Made

Numerous "Flare Ups" At Council Meeting

The adjourned meeting of city council, Wednesday night, arranged primarily with a view to getting rid of the so-called Zaph controversy, which has been a thorn in the present administration's side for many months past, developed into one of the most remarkable and really important sessions of the year.

Council not only took under consideration proposals from the Whitaker-Glessner company of an exchange of properties that it might carry out its extensive plans for enlarging its plant, showed a favorable disposition to grant a request of the upper ferry company to alter flood wall plans that Union street might remain a landing place even up to a 58 ft. stage and surprised itself by actually taking definite steps towards finally disposing of the troublesome Zaph tangle which aside from its various other phases has as its outstanding feature the fencing in and closing to travel of a paved street within the corporate limits of the city and that despite the fact that improvements even to sewerage has been given to abutting property as though it were dedicated property.

The Twentieth Street Sunset Avenue controversy was not disposed of until after considerable airing of differences, including personalities and much setting off of "fireworks" on both sides.

While the opening of Twentieth street was generally regarded as of vital importance it did not near leave the impress upon council as did the proposition of the Whitaker-Glessner and Portsmouth Solvay companies.

Mayor H. H. Kaps in bringing up the subject had before him blueprints, prepared by the two companies, showing just what land they wished to acquire from the city in furthering their future plans.

The mayor stated that he and General Manager F. E. Fieger, of the steel company, and Engineers Harper and Shute had had a conference the day before. The steel company, he said, wished to acquire the ground which the city owns south of its filtration plant or between it and the traction line. He said several propositions have come up. One is that the street railway company or traction line continue straight through east on Rhodes avenue across the Millbrook park lake and east on Gallia and at a point near the filtration plant, thence take a swing diagonally to the south through the city owned land and again reaching its old or main line east of the city pumping station or on the Carlyle company's land. He said the land in question includes 1.53 acres unused and .34 used land, or a total of 1.87 acres. The land which the company has on Gallia pike which it will not really need is about one acre. It will either trade this land or buy the city's land outright, he said. The Portsmouth Solvay company, he said, was digging its coke ovens now and therefore wanted immediate action giving assurance that it is willing to pay a fair price for every foot of ground acquired. He said the steel company was an industry which should be encouraged and helped along in every way possible.

Just as the mayor had finished L. C. Turley stepped into the room. He said Mr. Fieger in a conversation over telephone had just authorized him to state to council that the company wanted to keep the triangle strip on Gallia pike that the city might wish to have in exchange for its ground. He said present plans contemplated three fifty-four coke oven furnaces but if desired ground was acquired these plans would be re-adjusted to provide for another fifty-four oven furnace or another expenditure of a million dollars.

Engineer Shute was now called upon to explain what protection the city needed with regard to its water mains. He said there were at present four lines down along the western edge of the property and that the city necessarily would want to hold onto the 30 ft. strip though allowing the steel company to cross it. "They want to build right up to their line and their track leads will swing right over to our ground," he said. He gave it as his personal opinion that the city would want the little piece of ground in the northeast corner of the Idlewild tract as a future site for an additional settling basin that will be needed some day, adding that no other ground is available in the vicinity for such a purpose. Then too, he pointed out, the city desired a right of way for an additional or duplicate 24-inch water main leading to the city which he felt should go through to Stanton avenue on the west side of the lake.

"I think in making an exchange or 'swap' we should get what we want and they what they want and that without any exchange of money and think our rights can be protected," said Mr. Shute.

Mr. Turley again reminded council that the steel company insisted on holding to the triangular strip and that unless it could keep it, only wanted a 30 ft. wide strip around the corner of the city filtration plant as a new right of way for the traction line.

Upon motion of Mr. Johnson the subject was referred to the light and water committee, city engineers and solicitor for a report at the next meeting.

Director Ralph Calvert, of the public service department, brought up the matter of the Idlewild addition owners owing the city a bill of eighty some dollars for water used while their cement sidewalk work was in progress. He explained that a state examiner had insisted upon him presenting it to council and had put it up to him to either see to it that the account was paid or wiped off the books. He explained that it was a hold-over bill from the preceding administration and that it was really upon the suggestion of Alan N. Jordan, one of the owners of the addition, that he was bringing it before council. Mr. Jordan was accorded the privilege of addressing council on the matter. He told of efforts of the owners to secure water service from the city and when they failed how they got busy and had their land annexed to New Boston, meanwhile securing the use of a single tap. He said that once they were annexed they felt they were entitled to the same water rate as New Boston. He said interviews with Mr. Calvert showed that no one had previously been paying for water in public contract work but that if the city insisted under the circumstances of forcing him and his associates to pay, he would gladly do so. Mr. Turley suggested it would be difficult to arrive at any rates when no one else had ever paid and could not understand why the Idlewild owners should be singled out.

Mr. Johnson now reminded everybody present that council was purely and simply a legislative body and should not be called upon to sit in judgment in such matters. He was sustained by Solicitor Anselm Skelton who held that it was the service director who had full charge and control of the operation, fixing of rates, etc., of the water plant. Mr. Calvert while agreeing to this view, thought council should at least show interest, in view of the fact that at a recent executive session it had unanimously voted that Mr. Jordan should pay the bill, to make some public expression.

His suggestion that council was now apparently trying to "renig" was resented by Mr. Cramer, who declared he knew of no change having taken place in council's vote or attitude. Mr. Johnson suggested that some steps be taken to arbitrate matters. Mayor Kaps felt that inasmuch as the "learned" examiner had put it up to council that council should not back-track but rather help out the administration and at least say where they stood, although agreeing with the solicitor that it had no authority in the matter.

A whispered conference between Messrs. Turley and Jordan ended the long discussion, the latter announcing to council that he would see the director in the morning and give him a check for the amount desired but took the opportunity for remarking that the city officials should start right now and see to it that others also pay for similar service and that the free use of water might be turned into an inducement to people generally to lay new sidewalks. He said he and his associate were willing to pay the bill in question rather than embarrass or entangle council in anyway.

Henry Heer, representing the upper ferry company, impressed council with the disadvantages of a gate in the flood wall at Union street, declaring that it would shut off travel at a 43 ft. stage. He felt this would not only be a loss to the ferry company but the city as well, saying the ferry brought to the city regularly every morning 300 persons employed in local factories. These are given 25 trips for 50 cents at which cheap rate the company could not afford to haul them the big distance down to Chilliote street. He also told of Greenup county raising its Tygart roads from a 50 to 60 ft. flood level that they might get over to this side during flood times and said that with new roads constructed the distance from Greenup had been lessened 5 1/2 miles.

He suggested that there could be a fill made on each side of the wall up to a 58 ft. level without any damage to abutting property and that the ferry company had two acres of ground of which it was willing to donate the required dirt for the purpose. He too reminded council that the company had donated Union street to the city and while admitting it was a difficult thoroughfare to maintain felt that the extensive travel called for something in return.

Mr. Wilson, speaking on the subject, called attention to Portsmouth's continued growth as well as that of its suburbs and said he did not believe it wise to cut off any of them. He favored granting the relief asked for and his motion referring the petition to the service department, engineers and street committee to prepare plans and estimates carried unanimously.

With the simple announcement of Chairman Riekey, of the street committee, that it had no recommendation to make in the Zaph controversy further than that it did not care that the city enter into any condemnation proceedings at the present time, it was felt that the much-mooted question would again be tabled. Besides Mr. Turley remarked at the outset that he had nothing further to offer except that he was willing to answer any question that might be put to him. He said that while Sunset avenue was being used for hauling material to the Wertz properties the Sunnyside company was not particularly interested just now in that street but believed the public as interested in the opening of Twentieth street.

Mr. Jordan felt that he and his associates in the Sunnyside company had gone as far as they could in bringing about a fair settlement of the controversy. He said the owners were not interested in the avenue just now, having no abutting property at the present time but did feel that the city owed it to the Sunnyside residents to open Twentieth street, to provide an easy access to Hempstead hospital in the case of emergency and to the pupils of Lincoln school and not force these children to walk around Kinney Lane.

Mayor Kaps caused the discussion to take a sensational turn when he insisted upon having a clear insight upon one point before he would go any further in the matter. He said he first wished to be shown the records of just what the Sunnyside Realty company had decided to the board of education and what it had agreed to do. He said he had heard so much about one-half of a 50 ft. street and one-half of a 50 ft. street that he was clearly at sea and now wanted to see the records.

Mr. Turley now arose to reply to the mayor. He said it was simply another case of delay and expressed surprise at the mayor's attitude although he believed him sincere and declared it foreign to the subject. He went on to explain how the company sold the school site at a smaller price than it had paid for it just in order to get the school, how since other purchasers of property in the vicinity had sold lots at a much higher figure, admitted to the company having later laid claim to an eight foot strip between the school line and Waller street and the board of education paying for it, explaining that the shaft was made upon the advice and request of council to eliminate a "jog" and make Waller street in proper line with Kinney Lane, denied that the school board had paid for the Waller street side of the school, though it was asked to pay

May Revive Blue Grass League Next Season; Live Sport News

Mayville, Oct. 25.—A telegram from Frankfort says: While there is some talk of organizing another circuit next year in the Ohio State league, there are also rumors floating around which predict that the old Blue Grass league will again be in operation during the year 1917. It was learned yesterday from a well-founded source that there are a number of Kentucky towns that would welcome the advent of this league with open arms. Among the towns mentioned for births are Frankfort, Paris, Mayville, Lexington, Winchester and Richmond.

The Blue Grass league was in operation until about four years ago when some of the towns with franchises became dissatisfied and decided to throw up the sponge. In order to have the required number of teams in the league two Ohio cities, Chillicothe and Portsmouth, and Charleston, W. Va., were admitted and later the name of the league was changed to that of the Ohio State. The league operated this season and sooner than continue under that name until about the middle of last summer and was then forced to quit because of poor attendance in all the cities. Practically every club in the Ohio State league has money mapped out by the first of the year.

One thing that does more to hurt a club "C" than the lack of money is the lack of a live sport. The live sport is the one thing that is the life of the league. The live sport is the one thing that is the life of the league. The live sport is the one thing that is the life of the league.

ALLEGED HIDE THIEVES GET HEARING, ARE BOUND OVER

John Hammond, Maurice Bert-ran, Taylor Ferguson, Pearl and John Seth were held to the grand jury by Mayor Kaps Thursday in the sum of $500 each on charges of stealing hides from an N. & W. box car Wednesday, October 18.

James Ray, a Rosemont Road farmer, was the first witness for the state. He told of being attracted to two men hiding behind a pile of rocks just as he was leaving a corn field on the Salladay farm to go home to dinner and then a moment later of seeing the same two men loading hides into an express wagon. He did not notice which direction they took thereafter but said he had mentioned the incident to several parties. Asked if he could identify any of the defendants he pointed out Pearl Seth as one of the men he had seen.

Detective Andy Leslie testified that he knew nothing of the robbery until the following day when sixteen hides were found along the railroad near the river bank.

Detective Bob Reno said he had been to Waverly on a call when he got a telegram directing him to investigate the finding of some hides along the right of way at Benner's crossing. Mr. Benner, he said, had found several back of his place and sixteen others in all were scattered along the right of way from Five Mile church to the Squire Noel farm.

Mrs. James Allen, who lives on Third street across the alley from Louis Azarah's junk shop, and her daughter, Mrs. May Euth, sprang quite a sensation at the hearing by making sweeping declarations of statements accredited to them by Police Sergeant John Smith.

Mrs. Allen denied having seen anything unusual about the junk shop last Wednesday and said she was not in the habit of watching her neighbors. Sergeant Smith was then called to the stand. He stated that he met Mrs. Allen's husband on Second street. That was before any arrests had been made. He said Allen brought up the subject of the hide robbery and said his wife could and would tell something if not "given away." He said they had seen some young men carry hides into the Azarah place. Sergeant Smith added that Mrs. Euth had named Pearl Seth but had not seen John Hammond and did not wish to be a witness for fear that one of them might do her bodily harm.

Louis Azarah testified to buying 20 bundles of hides from two men at 17 cents per pound and receiving a receipt from them after he had paid them $216 in cash. He said the fellow who did the actual dealing gave him the name as Carl Ives and said the hides had been sent through him by his uncle, C. W. Dare, of Lanesville. He was asked to take a look at the five men in the court room. He declared unhesitatingly that the man whom he had paid was not among them.

Dan Imbold testified that it was about 8 o'clock that Wednesday morning when an employee at his serap yard informed him that two men with a load of hides were on their way to his front street place.

of business. He had quoted prices to them at 16 1/2 cents per pound. He said they arrived soon after in a covered express wagon. He said the one who did all of the talking gave him a check for $301.42.

Mr. Imbold was asked if he could identify this man. Stepping in front of the five defendants he promptly pointed to Hammond as the man though remarking that he would be more certain if he opened his mouth. Hammond did so and Mr. Imbold after noticing his upper gold filled teeth said that as far as he could see he was the very man.

Jos. Kerrigan, of the First National bank, testified that he was at the third teller's window when a man presented the check for over $300. He said he called Mr. Imbold who vouched for him. He said that the man was of the same build as Hammond.

Attorney Moulton asked for the dismissal of all five defendants on the ground that no evidence had been introduced to even show that the N. & W. had a hide robbery or to connect the finding of the hides along its right-of-way with those sold to the junk dealers, that none of the defendants had been positively identified and that nothing whatever incriminating had been produced against Bertram, Ferguson and John Seth.

"We have some information we don't care to divulge at this time, but which we will be able to prove later," said the court as he held all five to the grand jury.

SPORTLETS

New York, Oct. 25.—It is much too early to suggest where the greatest strength lies among the college football eleven this fall for the reason that the growing and developing period is still going on. It is safe, however, to name the teams which seem to have the most potential power and which are most likely to show results from the polishing process which now must begin.

What might be called a mid-season ranking, judged partly from comparative scores and partly from seeing some of the eleven in action, would find the teams arranged about as follows: Princeton, Yale, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Harvard, Pittsburgh, the United States Naval Academy, Georgetown, Dartmouth, Colgate, Brown, Syracuse, the United States Military Academy at West Point and Rutgers.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 25.—Quarterback Stanuch of the University of Illinois football eleven, whose jaw was broken in the game with Ohio State last Saturday, will be unable to play again this season, Coach Zuppke announced today.

Football experts, who have seen Ohio State play this season enthusiastically proclaim the team to be one of the best ever organized in Ohio and predict that State will win the Big Nine Conference honor this year.

Jack Ryder, baseball editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, is one chap who doesn't care what he does with his time. He plays no value on it. He is visiting in London. Our sympathy, Jack.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Major league baseball players will not only be barred from engaging in exhibition baseball games, but are forbidden to increase their income after the regular season is over by indoor baseball, basketball or football.

"This was the answer today of President D. B. Johnson of the American league to the protests of David F. H. president of the Ball Players' Fraternity against fines imposed on members for engaging in post season games. The action of the players' contract covering the points mentioned was exhibited by President Johnson and he said that it should be approved by Mr. Fittz. It forbids participation in any exhibition game, indoor baseball, basketball or football unless the written consent of the club has first been given.

"We decided not to permit the exhibition games because of the hippodrome features could not be divorced from them," Johnson said.

Escape TOOTH Troubles
—by keeping your teeth REALLY CLEAN.
"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay." Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them? Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pyorrhea, usually develop only in the mouth where germ-laden caries is present. SENSRECO, the formula of a dental specialist, keeps the teeth REALLY CLEAN. It embodies specially prepared soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly desiccative to the germ of Pyorrhea.

Go to your dealer today and get a tube of SENSRECO—keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay. Send 4c to SENSRECO, 304 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

Babe's Arm Pulled Out Of Place

Hazel, ten months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zacharias McGuire, who reside at Tygart, Ky., suffered a painful injury Wednesday afternoon when her mother picked her up from the floor, where the child was playing. The child gave a sudden lurch when Mrs. McGuire started to pick it up and she was only able to get hold of the babe's right arm, with the result that it was pulled out of place. A hurry call was sent for Dr. O. W. Meadows, of Fullerton, but before he arrived, the grandmother of the child put its arm back in place.

small. Phyllis and I step into the Corner Book Store, at Second and Chillicothe streets to buy Phyllis a doll, for they have such beautiful dolls and so reasonable. We next visit King's Art Gallery, 211 Chillicothe street, to have some photos taken, for King's make excellent photos. Their prices are reasonable. We next visit Wurster Bros., 419 Chillicothe street, to purchase a kodak for myself, and some other purchases such as turpentine, castor oil, and late seed beans, as Wurster's is a fine place to trade. As we come up to Fifth and Chillicothe there we meet my three brothers, Brother J. says he has been to Emil Arthurs, 421 Gay street and had his bicycle repaired, as Emil does excellent work and does it quick. He also says he has been to Bill Abraham's, Room 3, Krieger building, and had a suit of clothes made to order, as Bill is a Union man, and knows just how to cut and fit and also how to charge. Brother Harley says he has just ordered a suit from the Three Little Tailors, 820 Gallia street, as he is very peculiar in his dress and says if he patronized them he is sure to be pleased. Brother H. says he has been to Dr. H. E. Hawk, corner Third and Chillicothe streets and had a tooth pulled. He said he liked to patronize Dr. Hawk for he is so kind and courteous, and pulls teeth without pain.

Now the three brothers go to Henry Roth's, 420 Chillicothe St., to buy some hunting and fishing goods, for they say Mr. Roth carries a up to date stock of everything in that line and his prices are just right. Now mother, Phyllis and I go to Malavazos Co., Fifth and Chillicothe streets, for some of their famous cream sodas, as they are the best in the city. While Phyllis and I visit the Lyric theatre, we always patronize the Lyric because it is the best show in the city, mother goes to Dan Dodge, 905 Gallia street, to have her eyes tested and a pair of toric lenses fitted, as Mr. Dodge is very careful in fitting the lenses. Brother J. goes to the Keystone Printing Press, 808-810 Fourth street, to have some invitation cards printed for his birthday as their printing is just right and prices low. Brother H. goes to see the Hatcher-Warner Piano Co., 1003 Gallia street, about buying a piano for his daughter Phyllis. He says they should be patronized. Their pianos are the best and prices the lowest in the city. Brothers Harley and J. are at the Play House, Sixth and Chillicothe streets, playing pool and having a good time and they want to take home a good supply of cigars, tobacco and magazines. They certainly like to patronize the Play House for they always have such good times there. Now Harley goes up to Roy H. Wendelken, 905 Gallia street, to buy his best girl a ring, for he says he can get such a beautiful ring there for such a little price. While we have been shopping father has been quite busy. He has visited J. F. Newman & Son, 907 Gallia street and purchased a barrel of lime. He likes to patronize Mr. Newman for he could do better there than elsewhere. Father also said he had been to Luck and English, 511 Chillicothe street, and had his eyes tested in regards of getting a pair of glasses. They are very careful in examining the eyes and are a new firm and should be patronized. Father has also ordered some Magnolia flour from P. H. Harsha, 2007-2009 Eighth street for made for bread. He also called up the Grimes-Strinmatter Grain Co., phone 100 and asked where he could purchase some Crema De La Crema flour for mother thinks that is grand for biscuits. He has also paid a visit to the Times Office, Front and Chillicothe streets and renewed our subscription for The Times another year. The Times should be patronized for it is the best paper on earth.

While waiting on father we see the Pure Milk Co.'s wagon, 1619-1621 Eighth street, pass by. Phyllis says, "O, grandma, do you ever use the Pure Milk Co.'s? My mother uses it all the time, she says it is pasteurized and it is the cleanest and purest milk in the city." We all meet at the Ever Eat Restaurant, 705 Chillicothe street, where we are served with a good supper as everything is so clean and sanitary it is a pleasure to eat there.

Mother says we will drive out past the Model Bakery, 1011 Eleventh street, to take home a couple loaves of Milk Maid bread, for the Model Bakery is so clean and sanitary and their bread is the best that money can buy. Now in closing I would advise all children to save their money and deposit it in the Royal Savings & Loan Co., 819 Gallia street, for they pay more interest than any other bank in the city.

Then I arranged to finish my education by enrolling as a student at the Portsmouth College of Business. This college has fitted many young people for life's duties, put them in a position to receive a splendid livelihood.

THEATRICAL

At The Sun

In these days, when it is claimed that there is no such thing as filial affection, it is a pleasure to see a play such as "The Only Son," which is the offering of The Broadway Players at the Sun Theatre the latter half of the week. This is a play every mother will wish her son to see and one which will bring home to every son the affection and duty he owes to his mother. "The Only Son" is not melodrama. It is rather the new type of drama, being serious enough to be worth the time spent in seeing it, but so full of humor that the lesson is often half concealed in its jest. Miss Anna May has splendid opportunity to display her wonderful ability as the mother, while Mr. Morgan's characterization of the dissolute son, who shows his manhood by his love for his mother, is worthy of especial attention. In some of the cities where "The Only Son" has been played, it has been noticed by the management that some of the patrons have attended a second performance and that they have apparently enjoyed the second performance even better than the first. The reason is probably the unobtrusiveness of the theme, which appeals to the more discriminating thought-giver. The advantage of a permanent stock theatre in a community is in the varied plays it offers, and "The Only Son" offers a pleasing contrast to the play of the first part of the week, which will make those who saw that production wish to see the play of the latter part of the week. See this play at The Sun tonight.

Here's a God Way to Stop Loss of Hair and Start New Hair Growth

If your hair is falling or thinning out, don't wait another day, but go to The Fisher and Streich Pharmacy and get a bottle of Parisian Sage, the truly efficient hair grower.

Don't say, "It's the same old story: I've heard it before," but try a bottle at their risk. They guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair, to stop falling hair, to cure dandruff and stop scalp itch, or money back.

Parisian Sage contains just the elements needed to properly invigorate and nourish the hair points. It's a prime favorite with discriminating ladies because it makes the hair soft, bright, and appear twice as abundant. It is antiseptic, killing the odors that are bound to arise from exertions of the scalp and, as everyone knows, sage is excellent for the hair.

To Burn Mortgage At Services Tonight

Services of a highly interesting nature will be held in the First Presbyterian church tonight, as in addition to the installation of the new pastor, the Rev. Merchant S. Bush, a mortgage on the new Sunday school building will be burned. The structure cost $27,000. There has been a remaining indebtedness on it and the mortgage covering it will be burned. While the mortgage is being wiped out the congregation will rise and sing an old-fashioned doxology.

Says Watch Was "Lifted"

Jack Jeffries, a bricklayer, hailing from Rarden, complained to the police Wednesday afternoon that a chance acquaintance had "lifted" his watch and a five dollar bill just as he had stepped out of the Senate cafe. He first gave the alleged robber's name as Cooper later saying it was Foster and as he himself was recognized as a man who had made almost a similar complaint a few weeks ago his story was discredited.

BIG CROWD ASSURED ON G. O. P. SPECIAL

Conferences were held at the rooms of the Scioto County Republican Club Wednesday evening relative to the special train which will be operated over the Norfolk and Western railroad Monday afternoon for a large delegation of local Republicans who expect to join the torch-light parade at Columbus Monday evening, in honor of Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential candidate. He will deliver an address at Memorial hall, Broad street, Monday evening.

Instructions were received by Chairman John F. Eckhart from Charles E. Haff, vice chairman of the state executive committee, to arrive in the Capital City by 8:30 o'clock, so that the Scioto county delegation can be allotted a place in the line of march.

The distinguished speaker of the evening is expected to arrive in Columbus at 7 o'clock. He will be met by a reception committee and given a place of honor in the parade.

At 7:30 o'clock Mr. Hughes will deliver an address at Memorial hall. Returning, the special will leave Columbus at 12 o'clock.

Already the local executive committee has secured the promise of a large number of Republicans to attend. By doubling up on the work at the huge plant of the Whitaker-Glessner company, one hundred employees will make the trip.

The men from the Steel plant are enthusiastic over the trip to Columbus and are now working on a plan whereby a larger number of employees can be given a leave of absence without material injury to the operation of the plant.

The Yaller Daws are going to make the trip with a large representation. Frank Stanton, chief kennel keeper of the order, wired Harry Gillen, who is now in Columbus, Wednesday, to reserve places at the Memorial hall for twenty-five Daws.

Baronets, the ceremonies of initiation will be conferred upon a large class of applicants. A baggage car will be secured to serve as the lodge room.

The River City band has been ungaged to make the trip.

The local delegation expect to have a long banner printed, similar to the long yellow banner carried by The Times newsmen during the Boaters' parade of the Kora Karnival, and carry it in the big parade at Columbus. Other unique features are planned for the occasion.

Delegations from most every county in the state will attend the Columbus meeting, which is the last big state meeting of the fall campaign.

Negotiations are still under way to secure special rates and an announcement will be made concerning the results sometime Thursday.

Between three and five hundred Republicans are expected to make the trip. Should special rates be secured, between five hundred and a thousand are expected.

All Republicans expecting to make the trip are urged to notify Chairman John F. Eckhart, or Secretary D. Willard Gustin, or any member of the executive committee.

ELKS ELECT FOUR

At the regular meeting of the Portsmouth Lodge of B. P. O. Elks Wednesday night four candidates were elected to membership. A series of social sessions will be held this winter by this lodge.

Foreslers To Initiate

Four applications for membership were received at the semi-monthly meeting of the Independent Order of Foresters Wednesday night. Initiation will be held on November 21. Plans are being laid for a supper that will be held on the night of the initiation. The officers will have charge of all arrangements.

The last car of New York Concord grapes for the season will arrive tonight for Chas. F. Turner.

WHICH IS SINCERE? HUGHES vs. WILSON

FOR LABOR AGAINST LABOR

IT IS TIME TO THINK!

HUGHES
Mr. Hughes' position on labor, taken from Legislative Labor News of October 10, 1910:
GOV. HUGHES, GREATEST FRIEND OF LABOR
The Legislative Labor News, of New York, October 10, 1910, had the following:

"Now that Governor Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns, that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed 56 labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any other state. He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his message to the legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the legislature.

"Only 182 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its erection in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, has been enacted and signed during Governor Hughes' term of three years and nine months.

"With such a record of approval and suggestion of progressive legislation in the interest of humanity to his credit, it is easy to believe that human rights will have a steadfast and sympathetic upholder in the justice of the Supreme Court of the United States."

WILSON
President Wilson's position on labor when an election was not at hand:
AGAINST THE UNION SHOP
President Wilson's Position on Labor, as Reported in Collier's Weekly:
(Extract from a Baccalaureate Sermon of June 13, 1909, by Prof. Woodrow Wilson).

You know what the usual standard of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trade union, and this is the standard to which it is meant to conform. No one is suffered to do more than the average workman can do. In some trades and handicrafts no one is suffered to do more than the least skillful of his fellows can do within the hours allotted to a day's labor, and no one can work out of hours at all or volunteer anything beyond the minimum.

I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. The labor of America is rapidly becoming unprofitable under its present regulation by those who have determined to reduce it to a minimum. Our economic supremacy may be lost, because the country grows more and more full of unprofitable servants.

Extract from a letter of Woodrow Wilson dated January 12, 1909, in reply to an invitation to speak at a banquet of anti-strike and anti-boycott advocates:

"I am a fierce partisan of the open shop and everything that makes for individual liberty, and I should like to contribute anything that might be possible for me to contribute to the clarification of thinking and the formation of right purposes in matters of this kind."

At a dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria on March 18, 1907, Dr. Woodrow Wilson spoke as follows:

"We speak too exclusively of the capitalistic class. There is another as formidable an enemy to equality and freedom of opportunity as it is, and that is the class formed by the labor organizations and leaders of the country."

We reprint them here because they have an important bearing on the questions whether the Democratic administration, in what it did during the last week in August, was actuated by sincerity of a life-long conviction.

If Stomach Hurts
Drink Hot Water

A Physician's Advice

"If dyspeptics, sufferers from gas, wind or flatulence, stomach acidity or sourness, gastric catarrh, heartburn, etc., would take a teaspoonful of pure bisulphated magnesia in half a glass of hot water immediately after eating, they would soon forget they were ever afflicted with stomach trouble, and doctors would have to look elsewhere for patients." In explanation of these words a well known New-York physician stated that most forms of stomach trouble are due to stomach acidity and fermentation of the food contents of the stomach combined with an insufficient blood supply to the stomach. Hot water increases the blood supply and bisulphated magnesia instantly neutralizes the excessive stomach acid and stops food fermentation, the combination of the two, therefore, being marvelously successful and decidedly preferable to the use of artificial digestants, stimulants or medicines for indigestion.

Do you know that the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. on Dec. 31, 1915, had in force more insurance in Ohio than any other company?

WILLARD GUSTIN'S AUTO STOLEN; RECOVERED LATER

Auto thieves, after a few weeks rest, again operated in the city Wednesday night.

This time Attorney Willard Gustin, secretary of the Republican County Executive Committee was their victim. They stole his Ford touring car, which he had parked on Sixth street near Chillicothe at 8:30 last evening. When Mr. Gustin returned for his machine at 10:30 after attending to business in Republican headquarters on Gallia street he found his machine missing. A search was made for it, but it proved fruitless and the police were notified.

At 1:45 this morning after a city-wide search had been made for Mr. Gustin's machine, an abandoned Ford touring car was found on Chillicothe street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets by Officers Flowers and Goodman. It proved to be Mr. Gustin's machine.

The car had figured in an accident, as the front axle and steering gear were found damaged. Mr. Gustin had it removed to a garage this morning. He is of the opinion that the thieves were headed for the Scioto Trail when the car figured in an accident and they had to abandon it.

"MASK" SOCIAL

A masked social will be given by the Knights of the Maccabees and Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees next Tuesday evening in their hall, Sixth and Chillicothe streets. Prizes will be given to the lady and man dressed in the best costumes and to the lady and man dressed in the most comic costumes. There will be dancing and music the entire evening. Refreshments will be served. The committee in charge is composed of Perry Manley, Elmer Harris, John Maunel, Mrs. Marie Yennell, Miss Marie Crosby, Miss Mary Hobstetter and Mrs. Bertha Hubbard. An admission of fifteen cents will be charged, the social being for everyone.

FAILS TO GET BOND: ADKINS IS IN PRISON

Ben Adkins, recently found guilty of the murder of Wilbur Nickel, young steelworker, Bonser's Run, failed to furnish bond Wednesday afternoon to secure his release, as first reported.

Late Wednesday afternoon a well-known business man, who was to go surety, refused, it is reported, and the document was not executed. Another attempt is to be made by Attorney Theo. K. Funk to secure bond for Adkins.

Teachers Will Meet

"The Southeastern Ohio Teachers' Association will hold its annual session at Athens Oct. 27, 28, 1916. The attendance this year will doubtless be the largest in the history of the association, as the program is one of the very strongest ever offered. Special preparation is now being made to accommodate the teachers who will attend this session. On Friday afternoon Dr. Alston

Ellis, president of Ohio University, will preside and deliver an inaugural address, followed by Hon. E. B. Pearson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Ohio. For the evening address the committee has been fortunate enough to secure the United States Commissioner of Education, Hon. B. P. Claxton, and on Saturday morning Prof. E. W. Wilkinson, Principal of Dyer School in Cincinnati, will speak.

Hallowe'en Party

A Hallowe'en party will be given Friday evening by Portsmouth Camp No. 3093, Modern Woodmen of America. Members, their families and sweethearts and members of the auxiliary, Royal Neighbors of America, have been invited.

The committee, which is composed of the degree staff, has made all arrangements for an enjoyable time. Indications are that this social will be one of the most successful ever held by the local lodge.

Besides the social side of the gathering, an elaborate program has been prepared.

Mrs. James Hardman, who resides near Fullerton is threatened with appendicitis and may have to submit to an operation.

To Reorganize Labor Council In Ironton

Ironton, Oct. 26.—Ironton labor council will be reorganized in Ironton next Wednesday night, November 1, at a meeting to be held at Schweickert's Hall, on South Third street. Four labor organizations, the machinists, carpenters, molders and painters met last night and made preliminary plans for the organization of the council on a new and substantial basis.

Charter Is Granted

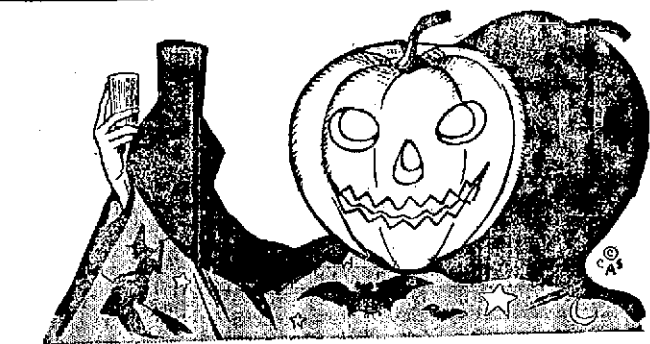

The American Federation of Labor has granted the International Union of Bricklayers a charter, according to an announcement made Wednesday evening by William Abrahams, local leader.

By the affiliation, the membership of the A. F. L. is increased by 70,000.

The local members of the International Union of Bricklayers will be invited to join the Central Labor Council just as soon as their charter is received.

Frank Stanton, of the Smoke 'em flashed upon a screen at the Gal-House, stated Thursday that moving his street esplanade Tuesday ere picture returns of the election would begin, November 7.

THE SORT THAT COUNT

"I will vote for President Wilson because he has had the courage to overlook and state his position, and no man can drive him from it."

These are the words of O. C. Barber, of Akron, who has heretofore been a Republican. Mr. Barber is famed as "the match king," being the largest manufacturer of matches in the world, and also has wide reputation for being a scientific farmer and owning the finest herd of cattle in the world. As may be surmised he is worth millions, and is in fact worth many, but evidently he isn't afraid he will lose them all, or any part by continuance in power of the present administration. One thing can be truthfully said about him and that is wealth hasn't hardened him to either the rights or the wants of his fellow man. He was the inventor of the non-poisonous match, on which if he had held to the exclusive rights of his patent, he could have made a fortune second only to that of Rockefeller, but he did not so choose. Waiving his patent rights he gave every individual or corporation that so chose the privilege to make non-poisonous matches, without any charge, or payment of royalty whatsoever. His position was that the use of the match was universal. For him to charge for the use on the non-poisonous invention would be to levy tribute upon the health and even the lives of the general public. Therefore he gave the benefits of his invention free to all.

STILL THE PEERLESS ONE

According to the Cincinnati Enquirer, which is not to be suspected of over fondness and admiration for him, William Jennings Bryan is still the peerless leader of the plain people and has lost none of the witchery of oratory that first made him the idol of the crowds. Monday he tarried at various points in the state and his course was a triumphant procession in more respects than one. Immense throngs gathered to meet him everywhere, their greetings were as spontaneous as of yore and Bryan was himself again. Of a truth, from Enquirer accounts he even surpassed himself. Bearing strongest upon the triumph of President Wilson in maintaining an honorable peace, with his rich imaginings and his sublimated ideals finding their most fruitful expression, his matchless appeals not only carried his auditors to the very delirium of enthusiasm, but actually moved many to tears. Such a picture he drew of the sufferings and sorrows abroad and the content and peace at home, the picture of Wilson standing straight and calm under a burden of awful responsibilities and in the midst of a mad storm of abuse and criticism, was more vivid than any ever limned before the eye. Less fervid, perhaps, but quite as effective was his exultant declaration, that for twenty years he had been coming before the people of Ohio, promising what the Democracy would do, if placed in power, and now he was back to recount for it a record of performance surpassing promise.

SOME COINCIDENT FACTS

On Tuesday wheat went to over two dollars a bushel; Bethlehem Steel, the phenomenal rise in which has been the sensation of the iron market, went to its highest price; United States Steel common passed the stock preferred and sugar stock, a number of railroads, the Norfolk and Western among them, and specialties reached the highest figures in their history, on an unprecedented volume of trading, all being coincident with the fact that the betting on the New York curb, which has heretofore been characterized by odds against Wilson, went to even, with a lack of readiness on the part of the Hughes backers to put up that indicated the odds would shift to Wilson.

This combination of conditions is more than significant, it is absolute proof that industries and business are not alarming at the possibility, or accurately the probability, of Wilson's election. For the trading was not the speculations of a day, but transactions largely in a legitimate way, many of the buyers being from the outside with evident investment intent. In fact, the market was not feverish and unsettled in its variables, but characterized by a stiffening of prices all along the line and a general upward tendency that continued in activity to the close.

The real basis for the strengthened general tone was, perhaps, the unusually favorable reports of the banks, showing a big increase in deposits and a corresponding reduction in loans, indicating greater capital for investment. Be that as it may, the one solid feature is the undeniable evidence that we have on hand one presidential campaign in which the country does not mean to take on menialness and an administration in which it has full and complete confidence.

Just now there doesn't happen to be any of the epidemic lurking about, but all the same, it is well to know that cheerfulness is the best preventive against cholera, physicians say.

A poet asks if we ever saw the sun rising in the east? We have and more than that we never saw it rising anywhere else.

He is in her esteemed midst today and Cincinnati is acting very much as though she liked him. Maybe after all she isn't a whit different from the rest of the country.

Whisper it not in Gath, tell it not in Ascalon, the Terrible Teddy is to be allowed to tarry briefly in Ohio. 'Tis said, but he must restrict his deadly activities to the northern coast.

REGRETS ARE IMPOSSIBLE

Scores of investments are offered to the public. Many appear very attractive.

But when one's money is invested, further developments often bring regrets and then it is too late to make a change.

Even when an investment is safe and paying fair dividends often it cannot be cashed, and the man who needs all his money badly in his own affairs is little consoled by getting a little of it back in dividends.

There can be no regrets if you invest your savings here, for they are always available.

If you have other use for them, all you have to do is to withdraw your money with no loss and with all the interest which has been accumulated at

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY. O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 26.—I always there is a real correspondence school thought until recently that a book-maker was a person who is skilled in binding volumes de luxe, talked in highbrowish terms and was one of the various groups of Serious Little Thinkers. I have found out the reverse. The bookmaker is very uncouth, unsentimental and has to do with race horses.

I also have a friend who talks nothing but race horse jargon. He never says "I won" or "I lost." He says "I win" or "I lose," whatever the amount may be. And he calls race horses "dogs," and he knows so much about them that one might well imagine that he slept right in the stalls with them nightly.

After the theatre the other night I met him and he began his talk about racing. He told me how much he had won on "hunches." He is an impressive fellow and very idealistic. He told me about a dream he had and the next day he won a small fortune on a horse called "Slumberland."

That night after a Welsh rarebit I dreamed of hats. I was standing in the middle of Longacre Square with just about enough clothes to cover a flute. People were running toward me offering me hats. There were green hats, yellow hats, white hats and purple hats.

And the next morning I chanced to look over the racing charts in the Morning Telegraph. In one race was a horse named Hatteras. Instantly the talk about dream hunches came to me. Dreaming all night of hats and seeing a horse named "Hatteras"—surely there was the hunch sublime.

So I called up my friend and told him to wager for me a modest sum on Hatteras. All that afternoon I stood at the ticker while the cold perspiration poured from me. Finally the race was announced.

Letter by letter I watched. It spelled out the winning horse. It's name was "Sonbrero."

The young man who put his stamp on the back of a letter and was rebuked for it by the postmaster—as the story goes—explained that he was a correspondence school student and that was his college yell. But

CHILDREN PERISH IN HOSPITAL

Farnham, Quebec, Oct. 26.—Five children are dead and fifteen unaccounted for as the result of a fire this morning at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Farnham is about 44 miles from Montreal. More than 350 persons were asleep in the hospital when the blaze was discovered. Unable to make their way to safety by means of the fire escape, nearly all of them jumped from windows. Twenty-five children who leaped from the third story were badly injured when they landed on stone pavements. The hospital and a laundry were destroyed and several adjacent buildings were damaged by smoke and water. The fire is believed to have started in a defective chimney.

FRENCH HAMMERING FORT VAUX

President Wilson Visits Ohio-Is Guest Of Cincinnati

SEEK TO RECAPTURE FORMER STRONGHOLD

Paris, Oct. 26.—The French troops at Verdun are following up as fast as they can the advantage gained by their sudden forward sweep on Tuesday, and, according to the latest information, have closed in to within less than five hundred yards of Vaux Fort. Announcement of the capture is momentarily expected here, completely restoring the French line held on Feb. 25.

The German forces at Verdun are reacting so slowly and with such apparent lack of strength that in the opinion of French military men they no longer possess a general reserve but are obliged to withdraw men from one section of the front to reinforce another section in case of need.

Reports of the casualty which are now in hand show the French losses were very light indeed, considerably less than the number of prisoners taken and a large proportion of them were of cases in which the men were slightly wounded.

Considerable material was recaptured. The Germans had massed guns of all calibres in the ravine of death all of which fell into the hands of the French. The three lieutenant generals, who, under the command of General Mangin, led the attacking from the divisions were all lieutenant-colonels at the outbreak of the war and had been singled out by General Joffre for promotion on account of their technical ability, energy and initiative.

MEXICAN SITUATION BECOMES SERIOUS

VILLA A MENACE TO CHIHUAHUA

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—Reports from Mexican Ambassador Arredondo received from Consul Garcia at El Paso, a denial of General Trevino, Carranza commander at Chihuahua, that he was short of ammunition or intended to evacuate the city. Carranza losses in the fighting with Villistas at Santa Isabel had been slight, he said, and eight thousand troops had arrived to reinforce the garrison. War department reports, however, were that Villa was encamped five miles from Chihuahua with a considerable force, after having defeated Carranza troops severely and that Trevino was ready to abandon the city.

ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME GREETS CHIEF EXECUTIVE IN THE QUEEN CITY

On Board President Wilson's Special, Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 26.—President Wilson, en route to Cincinnati arranged to greet the people of several Ohio towns early today. He passed through here this morning but was not up. His schedule included brief stops at Chillicothe, Ohio, Greenfield, Ohio, Blanchester, Ohio, and Loveland, Ohio. He was due to arrive at Cincinnati at eleven thirty o'clock.

The president's program in Cincinnati was one of the busiest he has ever faced. Following his arrival the mayor was due to welcome him officially at a reception at the chamber of commerce. The rest of his schedule included a lunch at the Women's City Club, a dinner at the Business Men's Club and a night speech.

Last night large crowds met the president's special at Martinsburg, W. Va., and Cumberland, Md.

Reply to calls for a speech at Martinsburg, the president shook his head and said: "I would a great deal rather work than talk about it." Urged to say a few words he declared: "I'll say this with a great deal of cordiality, that it is very delightful to be greeted in this way. It shows a large number of my fellow citizens believe in me anyway." He retired before reaching Cumberland.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—An enthusiastic welcome awaits President Woodrow Wilson today on his first visit to Cincinnati since he became president of the United States. The City Club, a non-partisan organization under whose auspices the president comes to the city, has been assisted by many civic bodies regardless of political affiliations in arranging an elaborate program for the entertainment of the distinguished guest.

The president will remain in the city ten and a half hours, and except for a rest at his hotel, for two hours will be kept busy throughout the day and evening. On his arrival at 10:30 this morning the president and Mrs. Wilson been in use on the border. Army officers said that 25 companies of thirty-three trucks each, will be brought here within a short time.

The renewed Russian attempt to reach Lemberg, the Galician capital, has failed, in spite of gigantic sanguinary sacrifices."

The Russians during the seven days' battle lost more than 5,000 men as well as a large number of machine guns, mine throwers and pioneer material.

THE SORT THAT COUNT

"I will vote for President Wilson because he has had the courage to overlook and state his position, and no man can drive him from it."

These are the words of O. C. Barber, of Akron, who has heretofore been a Republican. Mr. Barber is famed as "the match king," being the largest manufacturer of matches in the world, and also has wide repute for being a scientific farmer and owning the finest herd of cattle in the world. As may be surmised he is worth millions, and is in fact worth many, but evidently he isn't afraid he will lose them all, or any part by continuance in power of the present administration. One thing can be truthfully said about him and that is wealth hasn't hardened him to either the rights or the wants of his fellow man. He was the inventor of the non-poisonous match, on which if he had held to the exclusive rights of his patent, he could have made a fortune second only to that of Rockefeller, but he did not so choose. Waiving his patent rights he gave every individual or corporation that so chose the privilege to make non-poisonous matches, without any charge, or payment of royalty whatsoever. His position was that the use of the match was universal. For him to charge for the use on the non-poisonous invention would be to levy tribute upon the health and even the lives of the general public. Therefore he gave the benefits of his invention free to all.

STILL THE PEERLESS ONE

According to the Cincinnati Enquirer, which is not to be suspected of over fondness and admiration for him, William Jennings Bryan is still the peerless leader of the plain people and has lost none of the witchery of oratory that first made him the idol of the crowds. Monday he tarried at various points in the state and his course was a triumphant procession in more respects than one. Immense throngs gathered to meet him everywhere, their greetings were as spontaneous as of yore and Bryan was himself again. Of a truth, from Enquirer accounts he even surpassed himself. Bearing strongest upon the triumph of President Wilson in maintaining an honorable peace, with his rich imaginings and his sublimated ideals finding their most fruitful expression, his matchless appeals not only carried his auditors to the very delirium of enthusiasm, but actually moved many to tears. Such a picture he drew of the sufferings and sorrowing abroad and the content and peace at home, the picture of Wilson standing straight and calm under a burden of awful responsibilities and in the midst of a mad storm of abuse and criticism, was more vivid than any ever limned before the eye. Less fervid, perhaps, but quite as effective was his exultant declaration, that for twenty years he had been coming before the people of Ohio, promising what the Democracy would do, if placed in power, and now he was back to recount for it a record of performance surpassing promise.

SOME COINCIDENT FACTS

On Tuesday wheat went to over two dollars a bushel; Bethlehem Steel, the phenomenal rise in which has been the sensation of the iron market, went to its highest price; United States Steel common passed the stock preferred and sugar stock, a number of railroads, the Norfolk and Western among them, and specialties reached the highest figures in their history, on an unprecedented volume of trading, all being coincident with the fact that the betting on the New York curb, which has heretofore been characterized by odds against Wilson, went to even, with a lack of readiness on the part of the Hughes backers to put up with that indicated the odds would shift to Wilson.

This combination of conditions is more than significant, it is absolute proof that industries and business are not alarming at the possibility, or accurately the probability, of Wilson's election. For the trading was not the speculations of a day, but transactions largely in a legitimate way, many of the buyers being from the outside with evident investment intent. In fact, the market was not feverish and unsettled in its variables, but characterized by a stiffening of prices all along the line and a general upward tendency that continued in activity to the close.

The real basis for the strengthened general tone was, perhaps, the unusually favorable reports of the banks, showing a big increase in deposits and a corresponding reduction in loans, indicating greater capital for investment. Be that as it may, the one solid feature is the undeniable evidence that we have on hand one presidential campaign in which the country does not mean to take on uneasiness and an administration in which it has full and complete confidence.

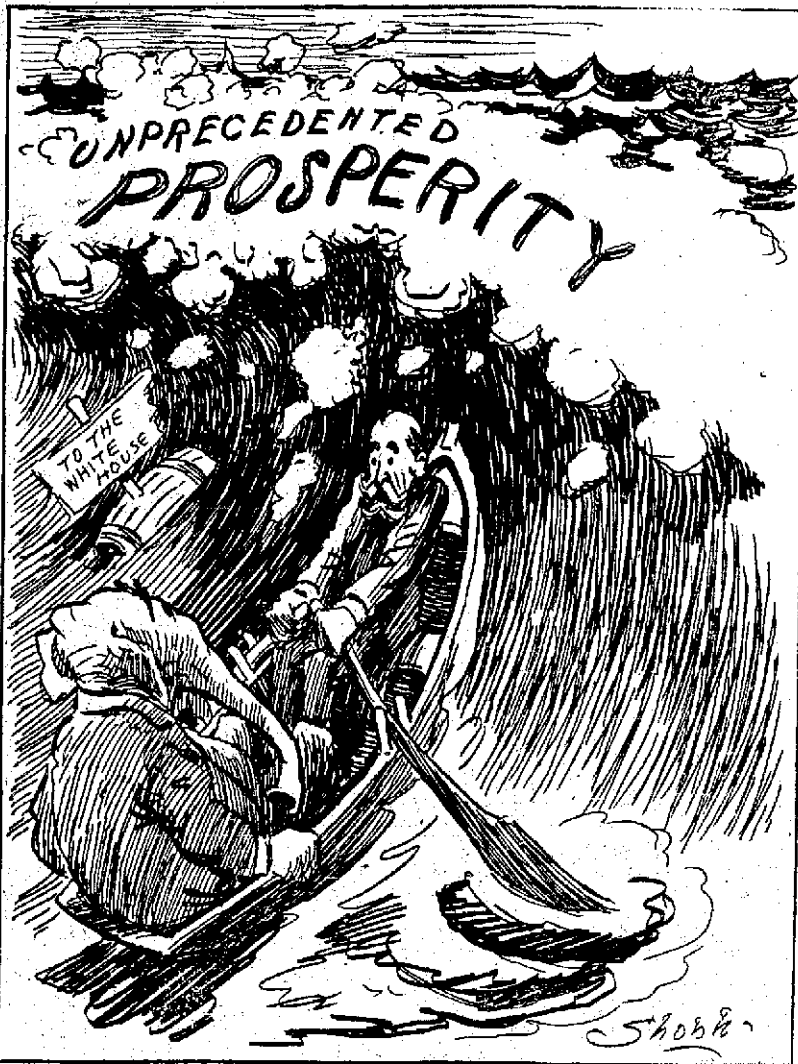

Just now there doesn't happen to be any of the epidemic lurking about, but all the same, it is well to know that cheerfulness is the best preventive against cholera, physicians say.

A poet asks if we ever saw the sun rising in the east? We have and more than that we never saw it rising anywhere else.

He is in her esteemed midst today and Cincinnati is acting very much as though she liked him. Maybe after all she isn't a whit different from the rest of the country.

Whisper it not in Gath, tell it not in Ascalon, the Terrible Teddy is to be allowed to tarry briefly in Ohio, 'tis said, but he must restrict his deadly activities to the northern coast.

SOME PULL

We can't agree that every time the health of a European statesman's fails it is contemporaneous with his job giving out. It appears the other way round. The job gives out because the statesman isn't equal to it and then there is nothing left to save his face, but let his health fail.

The amiable Professor Taft has fallen off a hundred pounds from President Taft. Perhaps, he is no longer feeding upon his troubles.

It isn't everybody, but everything that is doing it. Cotton is bringing twenty cents a pound.

So far from being dead Villa now seems to be about the most numerous alive person in Mexico.

So far as we can size it still it is six of one and half dozen of the other. The Germans drub the allies on the south and the allies smash the Germans on the west.

Woman is winning her way and makes a golden start at it when Henry Ford places her on the same wage basis as mere man.

Oh, certainly, we've got to have diversity. A peach wouldn't be a peach if we had it all the year round and no more would the finest weather on earth be a keen joy if we didn't have cloud and rain, once in awhile to lend variety and spice.

Mr. Andy Carnegie is a gentleman, we believe, who made enough out of iron and steel mills and is supposed to have a real sunny sun invested therein. He isn't a bit afraid Wilson's election will blow out all the fires. Truth to say, though heretofore a staunch Republican, he is now lending hearty support to Wilson's re-election.

A drive anywhere out in the country and a gaze on the magic colors nature has painted will convince you Scioto county is the prettiest spot on earth. And the roads are not so bad either.

Always some curious one to ask a question. Candidate Hughes, after some weeks of repetition, insists he means what he says, whereupon comes the Columbia State and inquires what he has said.

Confidentially the Peerless is not as big as she claimed, but she is bigger than she thought she was. And, oh, my, how she is growing and going to keep on growing.

The local post office shows a substantial gain for the first fifteen days of this month as compared with last year. Just another illustration of good times and the continuous development of the city.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

BY O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 26—I always thought until recently that a bookmaker was a person who is skilled in binding volumes de luxe, talked in highbrow terms and was one of the various groups of Serious Little Thinkers. I have found out the reverse. The bookmaker is very unorthodox, unsentimental and has to do with race horses.

I also have a friend who talks nothing but race horse jargon. He never says "I won" or "I lost." He says "I win" or "I lose," whatever the amount may be. And he calls race horses "dogs," and he knows so much about them that one might well imagine that he slept right in the stalls with them nightly.

After the theatre the other night I met him and he began his talk about racing. He told me how much he had won on "hanches." He is an impressive fellow and very idealistic. He told me about a dream he had and the next day he won a small fortune on a horse called "Slumberland."

That night after a Welsh rabbit I dreamed of hats. I was standing in the middle of Longacre Square with just about enough clothes to cover a flue. People were running toward me offering me hats. There were green hats, yellow hats, white hats and purple hats.

And the next morning I chanced to look over the racing charts in the Morning Telegraph. In one race was a horse named Hatters. Instantly the talk about dream hanches came to me. Dreaming all night of hats and seeing a horse named "Hatters"—surely there was the hanch sublime.

So I called up my friend and told him to wager for me a modest sum on Hatters. All that afternoon I stood at the ticker, while the cold perspiration poured from me. Finally the race was announced.

Letter by letter I watched. It spelled out the winning horse. Its name was "Sombiero."

The young man who put his stamp on the back of a letter and was rebuked for it by the postmaster—as the story goes—explained that he was a correspondence school student and that was his college yell. But there is a real correspondence school yell. I heard a group of young men yelling it on Riverside Drive. Here it is, and isn't it just too cute? Pooh! Pooh! Harvard! Pooh! Pooh! Yale! We get our learning through the mail.

We're not stupid! We're not fools! Kah! Kah! Correspondence schools.

Capeland Townsend, the hotel man, attended a private banquet one night recently at the home of a prominent lawyer on Fifth avenue. After the dinner the gentlemen retired to smoke and chat.

The host, after all were seated, got up and took down a sword which formed part of a trophy, and brandishing it in the air exclaimed dramatically: "Ah, gentlemen, I shall never forget the day when I drew this blade for the first time!"

"Pray, where did you draw it?" inquired Mr. Townsend.

"At a raffle," was the host's simple rejoinder.

The growth of the Tea Habit in Gotham is something terrible to contemplate. Big strong men—men with red necks and hair on their chest—are sinking into tea rooms every afternoon at 4 o'clock to quaff the colour and devour hot muffins.

As a result nearly every old home in the down town district is being turned into tea rooms. There is one thing pleasing about them: There are no waiters. Pretty girls wait on patrons and do not stand around anxiously awaiting tips.

FAILS TO GET BOND; ADKINS IS IN PRISON

Ben Adkins, recently found guilty of the murder of Wilbur Nickel, young steelworker, Bunker's Run, failed to furnish bond Wednesday afternoon to secure his release, as first reported.

Late Wednesday afternoon a well-known business man, who was to go surety, refused, it is reported, and the document was not executed. Another attempt is to be made by Attorney Theo. K. Funk to secure bond for Adkins.

Teachers Will Meet

"The Southeastern Ohio Teachers' Association will hold its annual session at Athens Oct. 27, 28, 1916. The attendance this year will doubtless be the largest in the history of the association, as the program is one of the very strongest ever offered. Special preparation is now being made to accommodate the teachers who will attend this session. On Friday afternoon Dr. Alston

Ellis, president of Ohio University, will preside and deliver an inaugural address, followed by Hon. F. R. Pearson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Ohio. For the evening address the committee has been fortunate enough to secure the United States Commissioner of Education, Hon. B. P. Claxton, and on Saturday morning Prof. E. W. Wilkinson, Principal of Dyer School in Cincinnati, will speak.

WILLARD GUSTIN'S AUTO STOLEN; RECOVERED LATER

Auto thieves, after a few weeks' rest, again operated in the city Wednesday night.

This time Attorney Willard Gustin, secretary of the Republican County Executive Committee was their victim. They stole his Ford touring car, which he had parked on Sixth street near Chillicothe at 6:30 last evening. When Mr. Gustin returned, for his machine at 10:30 after attending to business in Republican headquarters on Gallia street he found his machine missing. A search was made for it, but it proved fruitless and the police were notified.

At 1:45 this morning after a city-wide search had been made for Mr. Gustin's machine, an abandoned Ford touring car was found on Chillicothe street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets by Officers Flowers and Goodman. It proved to be Mr. Gustin's machine.

The car had figured in an accident, as the front axle and steering gear were found damaged. Mr. Gustin had it removed to a garage this morning. He is of the opinion that the thieves were headed for the Scioto-Trail when the car figured in an accident and they had to abandon it.

They say that Joe in driving his new Ford car a few days ago forgot the way to stop the machine and shouted to a garage employee to come to his rescue.

The following day he suffered a similar experience and drove clear to Piketon and he might encircle the town and keep on coming, not arriving home until 3 o'clock in the morning, when he had to do some tall explaining to his wife.

The Democrats and citizens in general will observe Wilson Day, Saturday, October 28th, at Democratic headquarters, in the Masonic Temple building.

This day will be observed by people all over the United States as a day on which they will pay their respects to the president of the United States and show their appreciation of the great public service that he has rendered his country. On this day, President Wilson is to send a message to his countrymen, which is to be read in every city, town and hamlet. This message is to be a proclamation of the new freedom which he advocates and is to be read with all solemnity of the occasion.

The executive committee has secured for this occasion the services of Hon. W. A. Inman, who will read the address and the public in general is invited to this service.

There will also be a meeting of the executive and central committees at 12:30 p. m. the same day.

BIG CROWD ASSURED ON G. O. P. SPECIAL

Conferences were held at the rooms of the Scioto County Republican Club Wednesday evening relative to the special train which will be operated over the Norfolk and Western railroad Monday afternoon for a large delegation of local Republicans who expect to join the torch-light parade at Columbus Monday evening, in honor of Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential candidate. He will deliver an address at Memorial hall, Broad street, Monday evening.

Returning, the special will leave Columbus at 12 o'clock.

Already the local executive committee has secured the promises of a large number of Republicans to attend. By doubling up on the work at the huge plant of the Whitaker-Glessner company, one hundred employees will make the trip.

The men from the Steel plant are enthusiastic over the trip to Columbus and are now working on a plan whereby a larger number of employees can be given a leave of absence without material injury to the operation of the plant.

The Yaller Dawgs are going to make the trip with a large representation. Frank Stanton, chief kennel keeper of the order, wired Harry Gillen, who is now in Columbus, Wednesday, to reserve places at the Memorial hall for twenty-five Dawgs.

The distinguished speaker of the evening is expected to arrive in Columbus at 7 o'clock. He will be met by a reception committee and given a place of honor in the parade.

At 7:30 o'clock Mr. Hughes will deliver an address at Memorial hall.

The River City band has been engaged to make the trip.

The local delegation expect to have a long banner printed, similar to the long yellow banner carried by the Times newsmen during the Roosters' parade of the Korn Carnival, and carry it in the big parade at Columbus. Other unique features are planned for the occasion.

Delegations from most every county in the state will attend the Columbus meeting, which is the last big state meeting of the fall campaign.

Negotiations are still under way to secure special rates and an arrangement will be made concerning the results sometime Thursday.

Between three and five hundred Republicans are expected to make the trip. Should special rates be secured, between five hundred and a thousand are expected.

All Republicans expecting to make the trip are urged to notify Chairman John F. Eckhart, or Secretary D. Willard Gustin, or any member of the executive committee.

Instructions were received by Chairman John F. Eckhart from Charles E. Hard, vice chairman of the state executive committee, to arrive in the Capital City by 6:30 o'clock, so that the Scioto county delegation can be allotted a place in the line of march.

The distinguished speaker of the evening is expected to arrive in Columbus at 7 o'clock. He will be met by a reception committee and given a place of honor in the parade.

At 7:30 o'clock Mr. Hughes will deliver an address at Memorial hall.

Hazel, ten months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zacharias McGuire, who reside at Tygart, Ky., suffered a painful injury Wednesday afternoon when her mother picked her up from the floor, where the child was playing. The child gave a sudden lurch when Mrs. McGuire started to pick it up and she was only able to get hold of the babe's right arm, with the result that it was pulled out of place. A hurry call was sent for Dr. G. W. Meadows, of Fullerton, but before he arrived, the grandmother of the child put its arm back in place.

Babe's Arm Pulled Out Of Place

brings the total up to about 25,000, which is an increase of more than 1,000 a day over last year. Since traffic on the avenue has to be interrupted for twenty minutes of the hour to allow for travel east and west, the rate at which vehicles pass up and down the avenue is one for every second of the day. The association gathered these figures to emphasize the necessity of opening parallel streets to relieve the congestion of Fifth avenue.
